

MARSHALL REPUBLICAN.

VOLUME XIX.

MARSHALL, SALINE COUNTY, MISSOURI, FEBRUARY 4, 1910.

NUMBER 5.

DEATHS

RUFUS WARREN EDDY one of our prominent farmers residing southeast of Marshall, died suddenly Saturday about 10 a. m. of heart failure after a very short illness. He complained a little Friday and grew worse Saturday but was not considered seriously ill till attacked by heart failure a few minutes before death.

Mr. Eddy was born in Pennsylvania and was 70 years old on Dec. 1st last. On Nov. 2d 1882 he was married to Miss Mary Button, his surviving widow. They came first to Iowa and later to Missouri, settling here 37 years ago. Mr. Eddy is also survived by three children—Miss Edith Eddy, Osmond and Lee. Three preceded him in death. He is also survived by four grand-children two of whom, Rufus and Miss Ruby Army, he raised.

Mr. Eddy was well known in and around Marshall and was deservedly popular being a good man in every sense of the word and his death is a heavy loss to the community. He was generally known as "Colonel," but received that title while a member of the Marshall band and not on the battlefield.

Funeral services were conducted at Shiloh church Sunday at 11 a. m. by the pastor Rev. Reeves of Fayette. The pall-bearers were Dock Sandig, John Deck, Frank Sade-white, Wm. Moore, John Solomon, T. J. Rawlings. The funeral was largely attended.

JOHN J. BRICE, one of Marshall's old and respected citizens, died at the home of John D. Bailey in College Addition Thursday evening, Jan. 27, at the age of 79 years. He had been in poor health for several years but was not considered dangerously ill. He is survived by seven children, none of whom were in Marshall at the time of his death. He made his home with Mr. Bailey a friend from where the burial occurred at 2:30 Saturday.

WILLIAM MCMAHAN died at his home at Gilliam on Friday, Jan. 28th, of pneumonia, after a week's illness, aged 71 years, 7 months and 25 days.

Mr. McMahan was born near Miami. In 1873 he was married to Miss Annie Griffin who died in 1880. He was married a second time in 1883 to Minnie Netherland, who survives him. He also leaves two children—Mrs. Jos. B. Huff and J. P. McMahan of Independence.

Mr. McMahan was a fine man as a citizen and neighbor and above all a conscientious Christian, respected by all who knew him. He was formerly mayor of Gilliam.

Funeral services were held at the Gilliam Baptist Church Sunday conducted by Rev. J. D. Thomson, of Kansas City assisted by Rev. J. E. Norvell. The church was crowded showing the esteem he was held in.

MRS. ANNIE E. BROWN, nee Hobbs, wife of Geo. Brown and niece and adopted daughter of Annie E. Baker, died in St. Louis, Sunday. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church in St. Louis Wednesday. She formerly resided at Nelson.

JOHN JOHNSON, col., died at his home on West Marion January 28th, of old age, aged about 82 years. His remains were laid to rest in Fairview Saturday. He was the old man who stood about the postoffice generally with a sack and cane and was a familiar character on our streets.

T. S. JACKSON, col., died at Pennington January 29th and his remains laid to rest under the auspices of the U. B. F. society Monday in the colored cemetery near Blue Lick.

Presbyterian Church Suit

Case in Kansas City Affecting Missouri Valley College

An amendment to the original bill filed by Frank Hagerman in the United States court in the equity suit to quiet title brought by the general assemblies of the Presbyterian church of Missouri and Kansas against the Cumberland Presbyterian "Dissenters" brings the total number of defendants up to 78, making the litigation one of the most far-reaching actions ever brought in Kansas City.

The 78 defendants live in 21 counties of Missouri, and the papers in the suit will be served in every division of both the Western and Eastern United States court districts of Missouri.

The suit is a blanket action to quiet title in every community in Missouri where the Presbyterian church has property which the Cumberland "Dissenters" are trying to obtain.

The dissent resulting in the suit is of long standing. Many years ago a faction of the original Presbyterian church withdrew from the parent organization and formed the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Several years ago the leaders of the two branches of the church got together and after considerable discussion, voted to reunite the Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches.

The proposition was submitted to a vote of the members of both organizations, and a majority of them favored it. The union went through, but there were some among the Cumberlands who had opposed it who declared that they would never recognize the coalition. They declared they would stand out alone, no matter how big a majority there might be against them. They are known as "Dissenters."

This caused considerable confusion, as in many instances the Cumberland Presbyterian "Dissenters" claimed the church property.

The first place where the trouble got into the courts was in Warrensburg, Mo. There the Cumberland "Dissenters" claimed the church property and demanded possession. The Presbyterians refused the demand, and one dark night an energetic "Dissenter" placed a padlock on the church door.

The Presbyterians filed an injunction suit, asking that the "Dissenters" be restrained from locking the church. In the circuit court of Johnson county at Warrensburg, the injunction was granted.

The "Dissenters" appealed to the Missouri supreme court and the case was reversed with instructions to the lower court to deny the injunction.

This gave the "Dissenters" fresh courage, and litigation was started all over Missouri, wherever the Cumberlands had property.

They filed suit for possession of the Missouri Valley College at Marshall, Mo. This is the principal educational institution in Missouri of the Presbyterian church. In filing their suit, however the "Dissenters" overlooked the important fact that the Missouri Valley college is jointly owned by the Missouri and Kansas Synods of the Presbyterian church. Their suit in the circuit court there fore was not effective.

In the meantime Frank Hagerman, attorney representing the Presbyterian synods of Missouri and Kansas filed a bill in equity in the United States court here to quiet title and settle the litigation involving the Marshall school. The suit is now pending and will come up in April.

A few weeks ago he filed a similar suit in the same court affecting all the litigation in Missouri growing out of the same church controversy. The document filed by him is an amendment to the latter bill. The case will come up in April. Attorney Hagerman declined to make public the list of defendants until the United States marshals have time to get service on them.—K. C. Post.

Rev. H. J. Steinheimer yesterday bought of Mrs. Myrtle Williams her residence and lot on West Jackson and will put up a modern residence on the lot.

Cumberland Presbyterian Social

On Tuesday night the members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church held a most enjoyable social at the Odd Fellows' Hall in honor of the 100th anniversary of their church, and also in honor of their pastor Rev. J. E. Cortner's birthday.

They served a sumptuous supper that included everything good to eat, and after everyone had eaten they had enough to feed about as many more. It is estimated that between 150 and 200 persons were present.

The evening was spent in social conversation and music which was furnished by Mrs. Ransberger, Mr. Hatton and the two Pecher boys. The music was fine and was greatly enjoyed by all.

There was a large birthday cake for the pastor which was a most beautiful one and was covered with lighted candles. The cake was baked by Mrs. E. G. Utz.

After the supper was over the people all assembled in the main room and here Dr. Ed Sharp in his most able manner presented the pastor with a rocking chair as a token of the love and appreciation that the members have towards him for his work here with them. After which the pastor made a short talk expressing his surprise and his hearty thanks for this token of appreciation.

Then followed the cutting of the birthday cake which caused much fun for the young people. Rev. Cortner was the first to cut it and was followed by the rest. Miss Pearl Scott received the ring, Miss Ruby Scott the dime and Rev. Clinton Cox the darning needle.

They all left at a late hour hoping that the pastor as well as the church should be permitted to celebrate many more birthdays.

The Stationary Express

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Black assisted by the Juniors of M. V. C. entertained the Senior class and friends at Stewart Chapel Tuesday night. A musical and literary program, followed by the musical comedy, The Stationary Express, furnished entertainment for the evening. The entire program was of unusual merit and the large number present were given a genuine treat.

NATIONAL LIVE STOCK COMMISSION CO

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Yowell of southeast of town are the proud parents of a new daughter since Jan. 26th.

W. L. Peace has been going around town with a big smile the past week. It was easy guessing that there was something unusual doing—a fine boy arrived at his home Monday, Jan. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Scheid, of College addition, received a message telling of the arrival of a grand daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas in Kansas City on January 29th. Miss Eva Scheid offers $2 for a name, grand-daughter D. Thomas to be the judge.

Hayes-Mackler.

We overlooked the marriage last week of two of Saline's representative young people—Marvin Hays and Miss Lura Mackler of near Cretcher. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mackler and was witnessed only by the immediate family and friends. The young people are temporarily stopping at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hayes, at Cretcher, but will move on a farm soon and go to house-keeping. We extend congratulations and best wishes.

Harris-Bramble

Millard Harris and Miss Blanche Bramble, of the Napton vicinity, were quietly married at the home of their friend and former neighbor, J. E. Davis, in northeast Marshall, Tuesday, Rev. B. F. Wharton officiating. They left after the ceremony for their new home near Napton. This splendid young couple has the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

Pike-Garrard.

One of the prominent society weddings of our city occurred Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. when Edgar G. Pike, a young business man of Houston, Texas, and Miss Edna Garrard, the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Marion Garrard of 209 East Arrow, were united in marriage by Rev. O. S. Russell. Mrs. Russell played the wedding march.

At the ceremony Messrs. Geo. Duggins and Robt. Davis and Misses Jessie Sparks and Agnes Langan acted as ribbon bearers, while Paris Wakler and Miss Jessie Garrard were the attendants. They left on the C. & A. that afternoon for their new home in Texas, followed by the best wishes of their many friends.

Public Sales

J. C. Orear will have a sale at his farm, two miles south of Slater on Tuesday, Feb. 8th.

Jos. Baldus of near Elmwood, will have a sale on Feb. 17th.

W. E. Heying, of near Sharon will have a sale of stock and farming implements on Feb. 28th.

W. S. Gorvens 3 miles southeast of Sweet Springs will have a sale on Saturday, Feb. 5th. Add Sales—

Amos Audsley will have a sale of personal property on Feb. 15th at his farm six miles east of Miami. Chas. (Bar) will have a sale at his place 3 miles south of Shackelford next Tuesday, Feb. 8th.

W. W. Webb has his sale of Feb. 23d advertised in this issue of the Republican. Mr. Webb will do something unusual for Saline—sell his farm and personal property at auction. He has purchased the Augur feed yard on West North St., and will take charge on March 1st. We welcome him to our city.

Fritz Strodman will have a sale at his farm in West Glasgow on Thursday, Feb. 17th, commencing at 11 a. m.

Among the Sick

Mrs. R. P. White, of West North St., who was very sick last week, is much improved.

Mrs. Chas. Chaffee was on the sick list this week.

Prof. McGinnis is back from Kansas City, where he went to have his injuries received in his fall treated. He is about recovered.

Geo. Hatton says his wife, who returned from Kansas City last week after having undergone an operation for gall stones and appendicitis, is well again after a several years illness.

G. A. Murrell is suffering from sciatic rheumatism, but is improving.

G. E. Barton, the second-hand store man, is up and around again. O. W. Johnston, our hardware man, has been on the sick list all week.

HARDEMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slayer, of Cooper county, visited with their son, Lewis Slayer and wife of near Hardeaman this week.

Alfred Davis, wife and son, Hubert, Clarence Winkler and family were guests Sunday of Henry Nae-meier and family.

Mrs. Joe Hillen and daughters, Corine and Margaret spent a few days in Marshall visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Joe Poindexter.

Miss Agnes Sutherland and mother came down from Marshall Sunday and were dinner guests of Ed Freeman and family and visited in the afternoon with the latter's father, Mr. Price of Hardeaman who is dangerously ill.

Rev. Laible of near Arrow Rock was calling on Lewis Slayer and wife Monday night.

Tony Gibson was in Marshall Saturday and while there purchased a fine span of mules.

It is stated that thousands of farmers will attend the Third Annual Cement Show, to be held in the Coliseum, Chicago, February 18-26, 1910. This influx of the farming community to a show hitherto attended mostly by manufacturers and contractors, is quite in keeping with the keen interest the farmer has shown in the cement and allied trade exhibits at the different State Fairs this fall. The desire for knowledge will surely be satisfied as it is reported that more than three hundred concerns will be present with displays, illustrating the most recent developments of the industry. Inasmuch as the farmer is using more cement than perhaps any other man today, we are of the opinion that the estimated attendance will be greatly exceeded. Reduced rates to Chicago have been obtained from most of the railroad companies.

A Dago working on a western road was warned to beware of the rattlesnakes, but told that they always rattled as a warning before they bit. The Dago accidentally sat down on a cactus, when he came to the boss howling, "Rattlesnake bita matega, no ringa da bella."
